

DAVE MCKENDRY

© Jay Rothberger

“Dave’s music is marked by emotion, sensitivity, directness, and depth – we are thrilled to have collaborated with such an outstanding musician, to bring this ultimate experience to our customers.”

Alicia López Moreno, Mercedes-Benz AG, Soundconcepts & Experience

“Immediately, I was captivated by his voice and the emotion he brings to his performances. The detail and finesse he demonstrates are qualities you don’t find very often. His performance was stunning.”

Kurt Richter, Austrian Audio

Artist Bio:

As an independent singer/songwriter, Dave McKendry has collaborated with Mercedes Benz, Dolby, Red Bull, The Sphere, Radio City Music Hall and more, while writing with some of the biggest names in Austria and beyond. In September 2025, accompanied by his band and horn section, McKendry recorded his new album “Live In Secret” before sold out audiences in secret locations in Graz and Vienna, set for release in April 2026.

Turn back the clock to 2016 and Irish singer/songwriter Dave McKendry is giving up his instruments and home to pedal off around Europe by bike. With no plans to ever make music again, an old Spanish guitar in an old Spanish vineyard soon proved music wasn’t through with him. Trading his bike for a guitar he wrote and played his way to Vienna, Austria, where he quickly progressed from street musician to recording artist. Two albums and an EP, countless cowrites and shows-across-Europe later, McKendry went back to his lone adventuring, striking out once again as an independent singer/songwriter.

Today, with a decade of experience and international collaborations in his pack and a record which finally captures the magical energy of his live performances, McKendry is working as hard as ever, balancing a year of live shows and studio collaborations, celebrating the imminent release of “Live In Secret” with yet more creativity.

